

Across the Dark Water

Specially written to commemorate the Battle of Agincourt 600th Anniversary, Across the Dark Water explores the treacherous plot to remove Henry V as king just before he began his military campaign in France, known as the Southampton Plot. The play focuses on Henry, Lord March, Lord Scrope and the Earl of Cambridge. An intense character study in what may have happened between the plotters and Henry and the consequences of betraying friend, family and King.

In our theatre area you will be able to watch the trailer, the full online film of the play, see behind the scenes material, interviews with the writer and director and hear from the characters themselves.
